

Abstract

[0023] Separating wall made of glass with frameless side parts (4) which are held at the base (3) and at a top construction (2), comprising at least one frameless transom (5) which is held at the two side parts (4) and at the top construction (2) and comprising at least one leaf (7) which is rotatably arranged below the transom (5) and between the two side parts (4), wherein the leaf (7) is rotatably supported exclusively at the transom (5) and at the base (3) by means of fitting parts (10, 11, 12), and wherein the transom (5) and the side parts (4) are fastened to one another and to the top construction (2) and the base (3) without fittings.